

We are Forest Research

Forest Research is a world leader in forestry and tree related research.

We share our knowledge and experience with policy makers and practitioners across Great Britain and beyond to guide the way they think and act on environmental issues.

Careers

A career at Forest Research gives you the opportunity to develop solutions to the complex problems facing our trees, woods, and forestry.

A wide range of roles

Examples of the typical roles available at Forest Research are:

- Spatial Scientists
- Economists
- Research Assistants
- Fieldwork Assistants
- Research Workers
- Entomologists
- Ecologists
- Pathologists
- Data Scientists

Come and work with us

If you are interested in joining a progressive, environmentally focused organisation, scan below to see our current job openings:

www.forestresearch.gov.uk/about-us/careers/

